NORTH DALLAS SHARED MINISTRIES

Dear Friends:

The Dallas Area Guide to Emergency Assistance is designed for use by caseworkers, volunteers, clergy and other staff persons to direct clients to the right resource in the proper geographic area. It serves to expand the knowledge of caseworkers and others as to the availability and limitations of those resources. The Guide is not intended for use by clients or patients.

The mission of North Dallas Shared Ministries has three important principles: to provide charitable assistance for persons in need, to promote a sense of self-respect and responsibility, and to work with other organizations to respond to conditions of human need. Since its inception in 1983, NDSM has emphasized communicating and cooperating with member congregations and area agencies to insure that the most effective and appropriate assistance is provided to individuals and families in need. One method has been the publication of the bi-annual Dallas Area Guide to Emergency Assistance, a directory of organizations that provide food, financial assistance, clothing and/or medical care. The Guide also lists and describes private and public entities that address some longer term needs.

David Shipler wrote in his book, The Working Poor, "Each person's life is the mixed product of bad choices and bad fortune, of roads not taken and roads cut off by the accident of birth or circumstance. It is difficult to find someone whose poverty is not somehow related to his or her unwise behavior...And it is difficult to find behavior that is not somehow related to the inherited conditions of being poorly parented, poorly educated, poorly housed." We all have chosen to take a road that places us amidst the lives of those whom Shipler describes. It is our responsibility, our challenge, and our reward. We need tools and we need each other. The NDSM Dallas Area Guide to Emergency Assistance is a tool that helps us reach each other.

The NDSM Dallas Area Guide to Emergency Assistance is a gift to the community. It is distributed to over 300 congregations, social services agencies, hospitals and other public and private entities in the Dallas area.

Good Luck!

Judy Rorrie
Executive Director

HOW TO USE THIS GUIDE

The Dallas Area Guide to Emergency Assistance is intended to highlight those agencies that provide emergency services including food, meals, housing, clothing, financial assistance, and medical/dental support. In almost all cases, the zip code where the client lives determines if a particular agency is appropriate. Since the mission, focus, and area-served for each agency varies widely, a review of the services, hours of operation, and other special requirements for an agency should be reviewed before referring a client for help.

The Guide is organized as follows:

- Listing of agencies that serve ALL of Dallas County (these are not listed in zip code specific section)
- Listing of agencies that serve ALL of the City of Dallas (these are not listed in the zip code specific section)
- Listing of Dallas Zip Codes and the specific agencies that serve each zip code
- Listing of Suburban areas and the known agencies that serve them
- Condensed listing of agencies providing other help such as medical and dental clinics, transitional housing, shelters, recovery programs, public programs, food programs and employment resources
- Detailed descriptions of each agency, its hours of operation, specific requirements and other information
